OBITUARY.

Jeremiah Fitzgerald.

Jeremiah Fitzgerald died at New Brighton, Staten Island, at 10 p. m. Saturday, February 12, Mr. Fitzgerald was born in Cork, Ireland, and came to this country when a young man and became a master at his business. He was foreman steam fitter at the Chelsea paper mill for many years and when that company left Norwich he went to the Aspinok company of Jewett City and filled a similar position. Three years ago he moved with his family to New Brighton, Staten Island, and by the time of his death was employed by the United States government as foreman steam fitter. He was married in this city February 2, 1882, to Miss Nora Ryan, by the Rev. G. J. O'Farrell, and is survived by his wife and four children, William, John, Jeremiah, Margaret and Mary, all of Staten Island. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Fitzgerald, who lives at 100 West 10th street, this city, and two brothers, Richard Fitzgerald of North Main street, and William Fitzgerald of Melbourne, Australia. Mr. Fitzgerald possessed a genial and jovial disposition, and was well liked by his fellow workers and also his employees. He had a wide circle of friends, who will mourn his loss. He was a member of several organizations, including the Knights of Columbus and Foresters. The body will be brought here for the funeral and burial Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Sigalove.

The death of Mrs. Charles Sigalove, formerly of this city, occurred on January 24th in the morning in the hospital. She had been living for about a year. Mr. Sigalove was at one time a contractor and was well known in the city. He was married to Mrs. Sigalove and they had four children—Mrs. Peter Glassman of this city, David Sigalove of Danvers, a son in New York, and a daughter in Boston.

Mrs. Jane S. Douglass.

The death of Mrs. Jane S. Douglass occurred at the home of her son, Monroe L. Douglass, in Waterford on Sunday, at the age of 90. Death resulted from weakness. Mrs. Douglass was for years a resident of this city, but for some time had resided with her son, at Flat Rock, Waterford. She was the last of her immediate family. Her son is her only surviving relative.

Mrs. John Bolles.

On Saturday the death of Mrs. John Bolles occurred at the home of her son, John Bolles, at Bath, Me. Mrs. Bolles was born in Ledyard, the daughter of Isaac Bolles and Mary Chapman, and the most of her life was spent in Waterford. Death resulted from pneumonia. She leaves one son, John C. Bolles, with whom she lived.

ADDIE BURNS CASE

Will Come Up for Hearing Before Judge Reed Here This Morning.

The continued hearing on the motion for a new trial for Addie Burns occurred at the home of her son, Monroe L. Douglass, in Waterford on Sunday, at the age of 90. Death resulted from weakness. Mrs. Douglass was for years a resident of this city, but for some time had resided with her son, at Flat Rock, Waterford. She was the last of her immediate family. Her son is her only surviving relative.

MONTVILLE MILLS.

Dye Mill Being Razed Fast—Keen Process Co. Will Ready.

The old Johnson dye mill at Montville is fast coming down. The large building, which has been bought by John J. Geary, has been moved part way to its destination, the mill being dismantled and the big whistle on the old mill will be broken up next week for scrap iron.

NEED OF A BRIDGE.

Montville People Want One Paralleling Railroad Track.

The urgent need of a bridge over Houghton cove, in Uncasville, which will permit ready access to Kilmacdonagh station, has been emphasized by the death of Mrs. Eusebia Mitchell on the train.

At present there is no ready means of communication. This section of the town is about to be greatly developed as a residential location and a bridge will be of material advantage to the community.

It was pointed out that a number of years ago the Central Vermont trestle, the work being done by the Central Vermont railway company, was in such a state of disrepair that it was necessary to close it.

It was said by an old resident, agreed to by the committee, that the sum of $300 was raised and given to the road. Later, when the Grand Trunk obtained control and made many repairs to the permanent way and bridges, this road was cut away and never replaced.

The four-year-old bridge now needs not only a footbridge but one which will accommodate vehicles.

Spring Is Due.

A little German band was in town on Saturday, making a tour of the town and collecting in response to their music. As a sign of spring they seemed to have a great deal of energy and their music was really enjoyed.

ACCEPTANCE OF SECOND CHURCH

Rev. Herbert J. Wyckoff of New Haven Commences Pastorate on Tuesday—Letter of Acceptance Read

asked and received Divine guidance, I believe I am now ready to make response to your invitation. My decision was not hampered, as is usually the case, by existing relations with another church; my ministry with faith United church in New Haven having been interrupted by the death of Mr. Haynes, with whom I had been associated in special work, and the coming of whose successor freed me for service elsewhere. But at the time when I first became aware of your interest in me, I had been approached by the church in Branford, Connecticut, with reference to a call to that field; and your overtures, begun without my initiative, caused me no little embarrassment. As soon as your action became more direct, I asked leave to withdraw my name from consideration by the Branford church; and this request being courteously granted, I was glad to accept of your invitation to my undivided attention.

From my first coming to you as a pastor, I have been deeply conscious of your cordial interest in me, and all subsequent impressions have been reinforced by the cordiality of your friends. I am frank to confess that your suggestion of a more intimate relation between us has been a great help to me, and I have moved me strongly toward an affirmative answer.

These American buildings and surroundings are a marvel; better than at home. Everything which the government has done for the very best of the people is here. I have visited the home of Alfred Rogers of Gates Ferry, who has been an engineer here for some time. He is in a government house which is very neat and homelike and has every comfort that could be desired. He and his family were very courteous and obliging to us. Provisions of the best quality are furnished by the United States commissary department to all employees at reduced rates. I am made to feel that I am in the best of the world in front of Mr. Rogers' door, and the grounds around the same are most beautiful. The lawns and grounds around residences here remind me of the Watch Hill private residences.

We have been all over the canal route from end to end, walking most of the way, and we have seen the great Culebra cut, which is a marvelous undertaking. On the line of the canal route there are laid out by our government.

It was a great surprise to me to see so many well-dressed Americans waiting on and off trains that you would see in Connecticut. The wives and daughters of all the laborers are here. The boys and girls have the best of teachers for their schools and the best advantages in this respect.

The government gives the best of everything and it is a marvel everywhere. The white employees are all well dressed and are young men from the states. Many colored men from Panama work on the canal.

I am writing this letter in the park in the shade of royal palm trees, with a breeze that is most refreshing. We sail today, the 27th, from Panama for San Francisco, and the schedule time is twenty-seven days. The name of the boat is Newport. We make several stops at Mexican ports.

WASHINGTON-LINCOLN SOCIAL.

Held at First Baptist by the Junior Church.

The Washington-Lincoln social held Friday evening by the First Baptist Junior church, was most enjoyable. Only the parents of the young people were invited and despite the stormy evening there was a large attendance.

The Junior church choir, composed of Miss Irene Everett, Lincoln Rescues the Ship, Miss Marie Stamm, Lincoln Chops up Heme and Saves Poor, Shiverin' Man, Miss Gladys Meier, Lincoln Rescues the Ship, Miss Olive Norton, Battle of Brandywine, Miss Vera Steinson, patriotic songs, including Revolutionary War and Sing Out, the Banner were sung by the Junior church choir during the evening. Members of the choir were Miss Irene Everett, Miss Marie Stamm, Miss Olive Norton, Miss Gladys Meier, Miss Vera Steinson, Miss Marie Stamm, Miss Margaret Phillips and Miss Alice Church.

Y. M. C. A. Boys' Meeting.

The boys' meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon had an attendance of about twenty, who heard with pleasure a talk upon Lincoln by Eugene H. Smith of the West. The speaker, points in the character of Lincoln which Superintendent Stanton emphasized in his large heartedness, his always cheerful way of looking at things and his love for the common people. The meeting was well rendered by Franklin Ford, accompanied by his sister.

Will Debate on Death.

Workmen's circle, local No. 128, held its regular meeting Sunday evening in Swatburg hall, beginning a series of three debates upon Death. It was considered from the point of view taken by the religions of the world, and also from the standpoint of philosophy and of science. The Saturday evening subject for the circle is now Newton's law of gravitation.

A GOOD THING

When It Comes Along Don't Let It Get Away From You.

"I really feel that it is hardly possible to say too much in favor of Grape-Nuts as health food," writes a Chicago woman.

For 9 or 10 years I had suffered from indigestion and constipation, caused by the continued use of coffee and rich, heavy, greasy foods. My ailments made me so wretched that I was eager to try anything that held out a promise to help. And that is how I happened to try Grape-Nuts.

That ended my sufferings. For Grape-Nuts has helped me in every way I wanted and needed. From the day I began to use it I noticed an improvement in my health. I found my health completely restored.

"My digestive apparatus now works perfectly and my constipation has been entirely relieved. I have gained in weight materially, and life is no longer a burden to me so long as I use Grape-Nuts once or twice a day. I have found by experience that Grape-Nuts is just what I need for my health."

"A physician in our town has great success in treating stomach troubles, and the secret of it is that he puts his patients on Grape-Nuts food—it always brings back the power of digestion."

C. H. BROWN WRITES

HOME FROM PANAMA.

Calise on People from This Section and Finds Colon a Delightful Spot.

Writing to friends at home, Charles H. Brown, of Warren street, who upon a trip to California, via the isthmus of Panama, brings his readers into close touch with conditions in the canal zone. Extracts from a letter under date of January 26 are as follows:

Have been here now in the Panama zone some three days, arriving at Colon after a six days' sail. The scene was most beautiful as we sailed into the harbor and up to the docks. The dock was crowded with well-dressed people waiting the arrival of our steamer. We saw Carl Colt there waiting for a friend from Baltimore, and also called upon him the next day. Colon impressed us as we came into the harbor as a most beautiful summer resort. Long lines of cocoanut trees line the streets, which, added to the tropical scene.

We had a most delightful voyage, a fine boat and the most comfortable; had use for my overcoat for only six hours. We had two days of rough water and then the weather was comfortable than our warm summer days at home. A strong breeze is constantly blowing from the north, and it is now what they call their dry season. A large part of Panama is American, and everything which concerns the United States is most sanitary. I haven't seen a mosquito since I have been here, and in fact, hardly fly. It is an object lesson for homes in the states.

These American buildings and surroundings are a marvel; better than at home. Everything which the government has done for the very best of the people is here. I have visited the home of Alfred Rogers of Gates Ferry, who has been an engineer here for some time.
